Midwife or Doctor's Name: Dr. Walker
3. Do you know the name of a doctor who does do VBACs?: Yes
7. Comments: Most women don't want to or "bow out" because they are afraid to fail (he noted that this is not as likely since I had a cesarean for breech). He said no induction, but otherwise they treat you like any laboring patient and cited a 65-80% chance of VBAC. He talked about how they used to not allow epidurals years back, but now that information is outdated. He admitted that his partner is not as comfortable with VBACs.
